GENESEO
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

ECONOMICS MINOR

If you are interested in the traditional liberal arts oriented economics area, the School of Business offers a program that might be of interest to you. The Economics Minor introduces the student to both micro and macroeconomics and permits the selection of two courses of interest.

Economics Minor: 22 cr hrs

Required Courses:		Offered	Prerequisites
Econ 110 Introductory Microeconomics	3 cr hrs	every semester	none
Econ 112 Introductory Macroeconomics	3 cr hrs	every semester	Econ 110
Econ 210 Intermediate Microeconomic Theory	3 cr hrs	every semester	Econ 110and Math 213
Econ 212 Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory	3 cr hrs	every semester	Econ 112and Math 213
Math 213 Applied Calculus (or Math 221)	4 cr hrs	every semester	4 years of high school math including algebra at the intermediate level
Elective Courses: Two additional 300-level courses in Economics	6 cr hrs	See Undergraduate Bulletin for Course Descriptions and Prerequisite requirements

Program Notes:
Students wishing to complete the Economics Minor must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 and must declare the minor prior to the completion of 85 credit hours. Students must complete a Declaration of Major/Minor form and submit it to the School of Business.

The 300-level elective courses should be taken after the 100-level required courses have been completed. Electives at the 300-level may not be taken until the junior year and are restricted to majors and declared minors. Because the 300-level classes are restricted, special registration procedures are in place for these courses. Students who have declared the minor will receive an email describing the process for registering for 300-level classes.

A minimum of 12 credits in the minor must be taken at Geneseo.

Not available for Economics majors. Available to Accounting and Business Administration majors, however, the 300-level electives may not be counted for both the major and the minor.

Minimum competency for all courses presented for the Minor in Business Studies is C-.

For additional information consult the School of Business Office, South Hall 100

AACSB ACCREDITED