A NARD Christmas Spectacular

*7:00 PM, Wadsworth Auditorium
9th of December MMVI*

Dear Audience,

Every year, Christmas time seems to get more and more hectic. With flashier advertisements on TV, decorations appearing on shelves mid-October, and radio stations playing nothing but Christmas music starting November 14th, we find very little time to sit back and appreciate what really matters this time of year. That's why we wrote this show.

In last year's show, as a few of you may remember, Rob, Dave and Alex taught Young Master Nicholas an important Christmas lesson, and it seemed only fitting that this year the roles would be reversed. Please, enjoy the show, and Happy Holidays.

***WARNING*****

Celebré: A NARD Christmas Spectacular makes significant use of fireworks, sirens, the 2nd law of thermodynamics, flying squirrels, Teflon-coated confetti, flame-retardant varsity jackets and copious amounts of whipped cream.
