Updates

President, Brendan Quinn updates:

If you are advertising for your club or organization, you must have an SA logo on physical publicity. If it is an email, you must include that the organization is funded by mandatory student activity fees. Refer to the memo Brendan sent out. If you have any questions about the logo policy, please talk to Brendan. If you need a contract for a DJ, performer, or anything that requires an expenditure of SA money, contracts are in the SA office. Please bring them to Brendan, Nancy, or Cheryl and they can talk you through the contract process. Also, have the contracts in 2 weeks before the event. The retreat is this weekend. They will discuss the upcoming semester. Brendan recommended ordering books online. He is looking into having a book list available for students. Brendan explained that a goal for SA this semester is to have rules and policies updated and in place. Let SA know if you have any ideas or suggestions.

Vice-President, Jarah Magan updates:

The vacation buses went really well for break. Thank you to the bus captains. Tickets will be going on sale soon for Spring Break. College Senate is going very well. Jarah has all of her senators for this semester. She will be working closely with class councils this semester.

Director of Business Affairs, Tom Johns updates:

Everyone should have received Tom's email about inventory. Please have them in by next Wednesday. If you will have a problem with that, let Tom know beforehand. Tom mentioned the new "open office" upstairs. You can sign it out at the Corner Pocket for up to 4 hours. There is wireless in the office. If you were in an office and are not anymore, please remove items by Friday. They are still meeting about stipends. Also, the budget is coming up. Tom will pass out a packet in mailboxes by Friday about the budget.

Director of Inter-Residence Affairs, Audrey Cooper updates:

Audrey came back a week early to work on projects and plan the semester for IRC. IRC is bidding for school of the year and the 2008 conference, so she is working on those. She has also been working on the retreat which is coming up.

Director of Public Relations, Jess Vigars updates:

SA had coffee in Milne Library on the study day in December, which went very well. Jess is looking into having it again in the spring. There are USAEC applications available outside the SA office. This committee runs the elections. The new GOLD books are out with all of the seminars for this semester. SA found books from a club that is no longer in existence. If you are interested in building your club's library, they will be available in the SA office. Otherwise, they will be donated to Milne Library. If any club meeting times have changed, let Jess know. They would like to attend meetings and keep a schedule.

Director of Academic Affairs, Stephanie Condello updates:

If you have an event or program coming up and you would like to advertise it to AAC, leave the fliers in the SA office in Stephanie's mailbox. AAC's meetings are on Tuesdays at 7:00pm, so she can hand them out then. Stephanie has been working on the AAC constitution and they will have their first meeting on Tuesday.

Director of Student Affairs, Diana Zuniga updates:

Thank you to everyone who participated in the Intercultural Dinner. It went very well. This year, they were the fastest groups in the kitchen.

Director of Student Programming, Nick Guy updates:

First and Only Reading

Tom explained that every spring semester, the Director of Business Affairs has to put together a Budget Review Committee. He sent out an email to the SA organizations and did some searching. He selected three candidates who will be helpful in the review process. Jessica and Vinita were present at the meeting. Nick explained that, having worked with both Vinita and Jessica, he feels they will be excellent additions to the review committee.

Reading 30-0607, first and only reading, passes 6-0-1 with Tom abstaining.

Open Discussion

Jess explained that tonight's open discussion will be used for organizations to share big events that they are planning for this semester. Matt, from IRC'S CRT, explained that they are working on a Double Dare for their spring project. Dates and locations still need to be decided. They will hopefully be including a charity aspect. He will share more information soon. Paul shared that the Club Volleyball team will be going to Louisville, KY this April for the national tournament. Ben, from Late Knight, thanked everyone for their participation and support. There have been many great performances and events this year. They have had over 18,000 attendees thus far. The first event is with Mac's Place on Saturday. He said the music group is very interesting with a great sound. On March 24, a comedian will come in and Late Knight will hold "Geneseo Comic Throwdown." Students will sign up to give a stand-up performance. The event will be like "Last Comic Standing." On January 27, "Hip-Hop 101" is coming. It is a comic performance about a fake history of hip-hop. A bus trip to Nick Tahoe's is also in the works for March. Also, Lindsey let the organizations know that Relay for Life is on April 14. It would be great for all the clubs to make teams. If you are interested, the kick-off is on January 25. You can also make teams any time after that. Jess thanked everyone for sharing.

Adjournment

Thanks to everyone for coming! The meeting was adjourned at 6:43pm.

Respectfully Submitted,
