NEW YORK'S PUBLIC
HONORS COLLEGE

Geneseo, New York

A Message from the President

To our graduates,

Congratulations on reaching this important milestone! Your dedication, perseverance, and the support of those around you have propelled you through a rigorous and rewarding academic journey at SUNY Geneseo.

We celebrate your success with great pride. You now join a distinguished community of Geneseo alumni whose contributions span generations and the globe. For more than 150 years, graduates like you have carried forward Geneseo's tradition of excellence, leadership, and service.

You are leaving not just a campus, but a community—a place where learning, discovery, and connection thrive. Geneseo is defined not only by its scenic village and stellar reputation as a public honors college, but by the people who believe in the power of education to shape a better future. It has been a privilege to be part of your journey during a time of growth and transformation for our college.

Throughout your time here, you have demonstrated the talent, determination, and spirit that define Geneseo students. Whether excelling in academics, research, athletics, the arts, or service, you have made significant contributions to the life of our campus that will be remembered and celebrated.

As you step forward to new opportunities, you carry with you the strength of a liberal arts education and the confidence of a community that believes in your potential. Our alumni have consistently demonstrated that a Geneseo degree opens doors to meaningful careers, innovative leadership, and lives of purpose. You will be no exception.

Wherever your path leads, Geneseo will always be part of your story. I hope you stay connected to your classmates, mentors, and the traditions that have helped shape you. Whether you return for a reunion, for a stroll through campus, or simply in your memories, know that you will always be welcomed back as a member of the Geneseo family.

It has been an honor to serve as president during your time here. I look forward, along with the entire college community, to celebrating the impact you will make in the world. Congratulations once again—you have much to be proud of, and even more to look forward to.

Sincerely,

Denise A. Battles, President

Commencement Speaker

Denise A. Battles, PhD, is the outgoing president of SUNY Geneseo, a role she has held since July 1, 2015. After nearly a decade of service, she will step down from the presidency later this year. During her tenure, Battles led the College through a global pandemic; oversaw significant improvements to the campus facilities and physical plant; advanced diversity and equity initiatives; launched a bold vision for SUNY Geneseo to become the nation's first equity-centered honors college; and strengthened the institution's position as a national leader in public liberal arts education.

A native of Oswego County in Central New York, Battles graduated from Paul V. Moore High School (Central Square, NY) in 1981. She received her baccalaureate degree in geology from Colgate University (Hamilton, NY) in 1984 and her PhD in geology from the University of California, Los Angeles in 1990.

Battles served as a geology faculty member in the Department of Geology and Geography at Georgia Southern University from 1990 to 2005. In 1994, she moved into the first of several administrative roles, eventually serving as assistant dean and later associate dean in that institution's Allen E. Paulson College of Science and Technology. During the 2000-01 academic year, she served at Auburn University as an American Council on Education (ACE) Fellow, where she was mentored by former Auburn president William V. Muse. In 2005, she was recruited to be the first (founding) dean of the College of Natural and Health Sciences at the University of Northern Colorado. She held that position until 2012, when she was named provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of North Carolina Wilmington, leaving that role to assume the presidency at SUNY Geneseo.

In addition to her faculty and administrative appointments, Battles has held leadership positions in multiple higher education associations. Her roles have included president of the Council of Colleges of Arts and Sciences (2008-09), a national organization serving academic deans of arts and sciences, and vice president and president-elect of the Association of Chief Academic Officers (2014-15), an entity for which she was a co-founder. During her Geneseo presidency, she has served as chair of the board of the ACE Council of Fellows, the alumni organization for the ACE Fellows program; president of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC), an international consortium of public higher education institutions with liberal arts-centered missions; and president of the Rochester Area Colleges (RAC), an association of 19 higher education entities in the greater Rochester, NY, area. Battles has also served on the board of directors and the executive committee of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) and the board of the ACE Council of Fellows. She continues to serve on the COPLAC board of directors.

Battles has an ongoing scholarly interest in science education and STEM gender equity issues and has been the primary investigator/project director for multiple grants through the National Science Foundation, including a collaborative project supported through NSF's ADVANCE program. Related to those interests, she previously served for six years (2011-16) on the editorial board of the Journal of Diversity in Higher Education, a publication of the American Psychological Association and the National Association of Diversity Officers in Higher Education.

Senior Orators

The Senior Oration is an important opportunity for seniors to share reflections on the Geneseo experience with the graduating class. "Student-to-student communication represents what the graduates take with them into the world and demonstrates the results of the excellent teaching and learning that distinguish a Geneseo education," says President Denise A. Battles.

Members of the Class of 2025 were invited to compete for the honor of Senior Orator in a multi-stage process. From this year's excellent entries, Gaetan Jean Louis '25 will speak at the morning ceremony. A native of Haiti, he is graduating with a double major in sociology and Spanish and a minor in French. Sophia Sabatino '25 will speak at the afternoon ceremony. She is graduating with a major in communication and has served on the Student Association Executive Committee.

Phi Beta Kappa is the nation's oldest and most widely known liberal arts and sciences honor society. Less than 10% of seniors (along with a few exceptional juniors) are selected by faculty members for membership into the organization. Geneseo is the only undergraduate SUNY college with a Phi Beta Kappa chapter, one of only 286 chapters in the nation.

Special Awards

The Richard Roark Award was first presented in May 1970, less than two months after Roark, a professor of anthropology at Geneseo, was presumed drowned off the Island of Guadeloupe in the French West Indies. The endowed award is given to a graduating senior whose excellence in scholarship and community service emulates Roark's. The recipient will receive a stipend to purchase books and will have their name inscribed on a plaque in the Robert MacVittie College Union.

Academic Attire

Academic attire generally consists of cap, gown, and hood worn on formal occasions at institutions of higher learning. This attire reflects the ecclesiastical garb of the medieval period when scholars were nearly all members of the clergy.

The bachelor's gown is worn closed, distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves; the master's gown is designed to be worn open and has long sleeves with an arc cut in front and square base in the back. The doctoral gown is worn open or closed and has velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on the round, full sleeve.

A distinguishing feature of academic attire is the hood. Its size, shape, and color designate the degree earned and the college or university. Bachelor's hoods are rarely used, but they are similar in design to master's hoods and are three feet long. The master's hood measures three and a half feet. The doctoral hood is rounder and four feet long. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the institution conferring the degree, such as blue and gold for the State University of New York. The binding around the hood is velvet and the color indicates the major field of study.

The President's Cup is given annually to a graduating senior who exemplifies superior service and dedication to the Student Association through involvement in and leadership of the association and its funded organizations. Students receiving this award must have at least a 2.7 grade point average. Recipients are selected by the newly elected executive committee, and the award is presented by the incoming Student Association president at the Commencement rehearsal.

Caps are normally black and the most common is the four-pointed mortarboard, but tams are also worn. Tassels are worn over the left front quarter after the degree has been conferred. Tassels were historically black although doctoral degree holders may wear a shorter gold tassel.

The Mace

The faculty and staff procession is led by the Grand Marshal, who carries the Geneseo mace. The mace dates to medieval times and is a symbol of authority. Geneseo's mace is carried only at the New Student Convocation and Commencement.

The mace and a companion medallion were designed and created by Professor Willard Peterson in 1971 in response to a commission by a committee of students and alumni chaired by Robert Redden. Peterson's design for the Geneseo mace fashions New York State cherry wood into the handle and the traditional spikes. The ornamentation features a blue lapis lazuli gemstone (found in the US only in New York State) and honors the Geneseo blue. The sunburst surrounding the stone alternates twelve gold and silver shafts, reflecting the light of learning.

The mace was a gift to the College by the Alpha Clionian Corporation. The medallion, worn by the president as a seal of office, was given by the Class of 1969.

A new lanyard for the medallion was designed and created by Professor Patrice Case in 2016. A cabinet to house both was designed and constructed by Professor Paul Hepler and presented to the College by the Alumni Association. It stands in the Tower Room of Doty Hall, where the mace and medallion are permanently displayed.

Portable restrooms are available in two locations and both are accessible by wheelchair. One unit is located on the south side of Merritt by the overhead door that is used for mobility impaired entrance and exit to the arena. The other is out the northwest exit area, floor level.

First Aid

First aid is provided by the Geneseo First Responders (GFR) and is available from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Commencement Day. Uniformed members are in the Workout Room on the lower level of the arena. Ask an usher to direct you if you need assistance.

Ambulance

In the event that an individual requires a transport for medical services, an ambulance and local medical professionals are on duty to assist.

Shuttle Service

A shuttle will run to and from the Merritt Athletic Center to the outlying parking areas before and after each ceremony. After each ceremony, shuttles will make stops near the Visitors Loop in addition to the parking areas.

Barnes and Noble Bookstore

Looking to grab some last-minute Geneseo swag? The bookstore, located in the MacVittie College Union, will be open 8 a.m.-4 p.m. today.

Emergency Evacuation

In the unlikely event the arena needs to be evacuated, we ask each person to exit via the closest exit located in each corner of the arena.

Geneseo staff will then assist by directing you to the nearest point of shelter.
