May 21, 2022

GENESEO

Ira S. Wilson Arena
Merritt Athletic Center
Geneseo, New York

A Message from the President

To our graduates,

It is my pleasure to congratulate you, our graduates, on your outstanding achievement. The hard work, determination, and support of family and friends have been instrumental in seeing you through a rigorous program of study at SUNY Geneseo.

Like those who have supported you, we take great pride in your accomplishments. You are joining a long line of distinguished Geneseo alumni stretching back 150 years to the college's founding.

Even though your time on campus was complicated by a global pandemic, something few could have foreseen, the Class of 2022 accomplished much in the face of adversity. COVID-19 was a challenge the entire world faced, but you persevered and showed resilience and fortitude.

You are graduating from one of the finest public liberal arts colleges in the country. During the last few years, you have come to know that Geneseo is more than a location, a college, and a village. It's a community—of scholars and citizens, faculty and students, family and friends—united by a shared purpose: the education of tomorrow's teachers and doctors, musicians and managers, scientists and sociologists, who will become the molders and shapers of the future on the national and international stage.

While pursuing your academic dreams, you have shown the strength, intelligence, and talent for which Geneseo students are known. From the outstanding achievements on the field of competition through SUNYAC and NCAA Division III athletic events to the caliber of research, presentations, and performances in the annual GREAT Day celebrations, your class has much to be proud of.

As you receive your diploma, you will be joining thousands of alumni who demonstrate vividly the value of a liberal arts education from Geneseo and why our graduates are in such high demand in business, education, government, the fine arts, and science, here and around the world.

No matter where your journey takes you, I hope you will return regularly to Geneseo—in spirit or in person—for an alumni reunion or simply to stroll across campus and visit Emmeline perched on the fountain in the heart of the Village. You are now a permanent member of the extended Geneseo family, a welcoming community of resourceful and talented individuals who are making a difference in their communities and are most eager to help you reach your dreams.

We cannot wait to hear about all you will do, the lives you will touch, and the mountains you will move. Congratulations on your outstanding achievement and promise us you'll keep in touch.

Sincerely,

Denise A. Battles, President

Commencement Speaker & Honorary Degree Recipient

Howard Blumenthal '74 is best known as the co-creator and producer of the Peabody and Emmy Award-winning PBS children's series Where in the World Is Carmen Sandiego?

Blumenthal attended SUNY Geneseo 50 years ago. He was an English major, editor-in-chief of The Lamron, music director of the student radio station (WGBC), and a producer for the student television station (GSTV).

After college, Blumenthal worked for Warner Communications, where he led early development of MTV and supervised production for Nickelodeon. He has also produced, written, consulted on, or led projects for Cartoon Network, History Channel, Food Network, HBO, Showtime, and FX. He has produced several award-winning documentaries, including On the Other Side of the Fence, which won a gold medal from The New York International Film Festival and a United Nations Award for Public Service, and The Boys of Summer, about Jackie Robinson and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Blumenthal is the author of 25 books about creativity, business, media, marketing, US history, and music. For many years, his weekly column for the New York Times Syndicate and United Features ran in more than 100 newspapers. As a consultant or project leader, Blumenthal has worked with HarperCollins, LEGO, WGBH, Parker Brothers, American Express, Atari, Merriam-Webster, Japan's NHK World, and many other companies. He has also been a senior executive for Hearst, Bertelsmann, and public television.

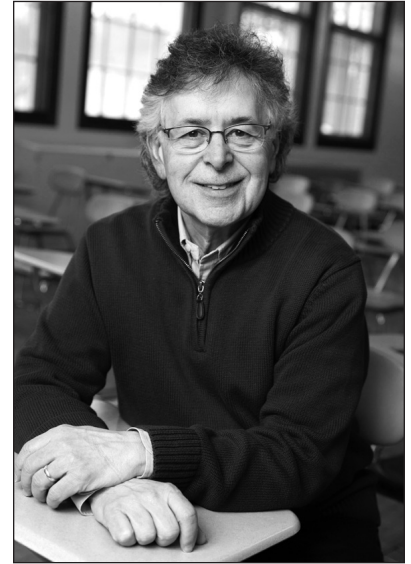

As the founder of Kids on Earth, Blumenthal has interviewed hundreds of children and teenagers in Uganda, England, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Paraguay, Brazil, Chile, Ghana, and many other countries. As a senior scholar at the University of Pennsylvania's Positive Psychology Center, he connects ideas about identity, gender, family, community, school, learning, media, technology, clear thinking, population patterns, equality, and more. He is also the executive director of the University of Virginia's School of Education and Human Development's 21st Century Learning Project. This project looks at school and learning from the perspective of 1.5 billion K-12 students—where they learn, how they learn, why they learn, what they learn, and how they prepare for complexity and change throughout this global century. Working across disciplines, in the academy and the community, mainly with children, teenagers, and their teachers, Blumenthal and his team are constructing a forward-thinking global framework for learning for the years 2025–2050.

In addition, Blumenthal has spoken at the University of São Paulo in Brazil, Ashoka University in India, The Department of Peace and Conflict Research at Uppsala University in Sweden, and several UNESCO conferences. He has served with several academic groups that address learning and community, including the Core Advisory Group for Civic Imagination Project at the University of Southern California; the UNESCO MILA Cities Innovation Group; and the Jena Declaration as an advisory board member for the UNESCO-Chair on Global Understanding for Sustainability, Friedrich Schiller University of Jena, Germany. In 2020, he was accepted for the Fulbright Specialist Roster to travel and work with teachers and students outside the US.

In 2021, Blumenthal co-founded the National Archives of Game Show History at the Strong National Museum of Play in Rochester, NY. The archives now include more than 50 hours of interviews that tell the story of one of television's most enduring forms of entertainment.

Phi Beta Kappa is the nation's oldest and most widely known liberal arts and sciences honor society. Less than 10% of seniors (along with a few exceptional juniors) are selected by faculty members for membership into the organization. Geneseo is the only undergraduate SUNY college with a Phi Beta Kappa chapter, one of only 286 chapters in the nation.

Senior Orators

The Senior Oration is an important opportunity for seniors to share reflections on the Geneseo experience with the graduating class. "Student-to-student communication represents what the graduates take with them into the world and demonstrates the results of the excellent teaching and learning that distinguish a Geneseo education," says President Denise A. Battles.

Special Awards

The Richard Roark Award was first presented in May 1970, less than two months after Roark, a professor of anthropology at Geneseo, was presumed drowned off the Island of Guadeloupe in the French West Indies. The endowed award is given to a graduating senior whose excellence in scholarship and community service emulates Roark's. The recipient will receive a stipend to purchase books and will have their name inscribed on a plaque in the Robert MacVittie College Union.

Academic Attire

Academic attire generally consists of cap, gown, and hood worn on formal occasions at institutions of higher learning. This attire reflects the ecclesiastical garb of the medieval period when scholars were nearly all members of the clergy.

The bachelor's gown is worn closed, distinguished by its long, pointed sleeves; the master's gown is designed to be worn open and has long sleeves with an arc cut in front and square base in the back. The doctoral gown is worn open or closed and has velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on the round, full sleeve.

A distinguishing feature of academic attire is the hood. Its size, shape, and color designate the degree earned and Members of the Class of 2022 were invited to compete for the honor of Senior Orator in a multi-stage process. From this year's excellent entries, biology majors Robert N. Colbath and Peyton Elizabeth Mackey were selected to speak at the morning session, and Tiara Ora Edwards, a history and communication double major, will deliver the oration in the afternoon.

The President's Cup is given annually to a graduating senior who exemplifies superior service and dedication to the Student Association through involvement in and leadership of the association and its funded organizations. Students receiving this award must have at least a 2.7 grade point average. Recipients are selected by the newly elected executive committee, and the award is presented by the incoming Student Association president at the Commencement Rehearsal.

the college or university. Bachelor's hoods are rarely used, but they are similar in design to master's hoods and are three feet long. The master's hood measures three and a half feet. The doctoral hood is rounder and four feet long. Hoods are lined with the official colors of the institution conferring the degree, such as blue and gold for the State University of New York. The binding around the hood is velvet and the color indicates the major field of study.

Caps are normally black and the most common is the four-pointed mortarboard, but tams are also worn. Tassels are worn over the left front quarter after the degree has been conferred. Tassels were historically black although doctoral degree holders may wear a shorter gold tassel.

The Mace

The faculty and staff procession is led by the Grand Marshal, who carries the Geneseo mace. The mace dates to medieval times and is a symbol of authority. Geneseo's mace is carried only at the New Student Convocation and Commencement.

The mace and a companion medallion were designed and created by Professor Willard Peterson in 1971 in response to a commission by a committee of students and alumni chaired by Robert Redden. Peterson's design for the Geneseo mace fashions New York State cherry wood into the handle and the traditional spikes. The ornamentation features a blue lapis lazuli gemstone (found in the U.S.

only in New York State) and honors the Geneseo blue. The sunburst surrounding the stone alternates twelve gold and silver shafts, reflecting the light of learning.

The mace was a gift to the College by the Alpha Clionian Corporation. The medallion, worn by the president as a seal of office, was given by the Class of 1969. A new lanyard for the medallion was designed and created by Professor Patrice Case in 2016. A cabinet to house both was designed and constructed by Professor Paul Hepler and presented to the College by the Alumni Association. It stands in the main lobby of Doty Hall, where the mace and medallion are permanently displayed.

Greetings from the Alumni Association

May 21, 2022

Dear Geneseo Graduate,

On behalf of the Office of Alumni Relations and the SUNY Geneseo Alumni Association (SGAA), congratulations on your achievement and welcome to the Geneseo alumni community! You are now one of the newest members of the SGAA—a strong network of more than 63,000 alumni who span the globe.

No matter where life takes you, Geneseo is a place you can call home. Maintain friendships and connections with fellow classmates and faculty. Take advantage of the many opportunities to stay connected and forge new relationships with alumni along the way.

Get involved with the SGAA! Organize a Geneseo regional event where you live or participate in alumni affinity activities. Attend regional and Geneseo campus events, join the Alumni Book Club, take part in lifelong learning opportunities, and sign up for the Alumni Career Advisor Network. Follow the Geneseo Alumni Facebook page and join the SUNY Geneseo Alumni LinkedIn group.

Again, congratulations on reaching this important milestone and welcome to a growing alumni community. Once a Knight, always a Knight! Geneseo alumni possess a strong sense of community, value kindness and loyalty, and make a positive impact in the world. If you should find yourself in the area, please do not hesitate to visit us at Campus House on Main Street. We will be more than happy to answer any questions you may have and fill you in on what is happening around campus.

The Office of Alumni Relations and the SUNY Geneseo Alumni Association wish you success in all your endeavors.

Sincerely,

Heather Hoffman Maldonado '95
President, SUNY Geneseo Alumni Association

Amanda McCarthy
Director of Alumni Relations

P.S. Stay connected to your Geneseo community! Visit www.geneseo.edu/alumni and join U-Knight. Submit a class note, update your contact information (every time your address changes), search for alumni events happening on campus or in your region, and visit the e-yearbook to reminisce.

Restrooms are available in the lower level of Merritt. There are two sets, one on the south facing wall as you enter the arena from the floor and the others on the opposite side on the north facing wall overlooking the back of Merritt Athletic Center.

Restrooms on the lower level can be accessed by exiting the main upper doors and using stairs or elevator to the lower level or by exiting the hallway to the northeast on the jogging track (follow restroom sign). Please note between 9:45-10 a.m. and 1:45-2 p.m. the access is restricted this way due to the procession of graduates using the hallway.

Portable restrooms are available in two locations and both are accessible by wheelchair. One unit is located on the south side of Merritt by the overhead door that is used for mobility impaired entrance and exit to the arena. The other is out the northwest exit area, floor level.

First Aid

First aid is provided by the Geneseo First Responders (GFR) and is available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Commencement Day. Uniformed members are in the Workout Room on the lower level of the arena. Ask an usher to direct you if you need assistance.

Ambulance

In the event that an individual requires a transport for medical services, an ambulance and local medical professionals are on duty to assist.

Emergency Evacuation

In the unlikely event the arena needs to be evacuated, we ask each person to exit via the closest exit located in each corner of the arena.

Geneseo staff will then assist by directing you to the nearest point of shelter.

Geneseo Alma Mater

Music and Lyrics by Ray Agnew

The musical score for "Geneseo Alma Mater" is written in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 4/4 time signature. The melody is as follows:

Shine the sun down on her halls of wis - dom where mem - 'ries lin - ger and our thoughts re - main

Sing her prais - es out a - cross the val - ley that e - choes our re - frain

Gen - e - se - o, Gen - e - se - o, send us on our way, _____

Gen - e - se - o, Gen - e - se - o, with our life's work we'll re - pay.

This year's commencement marks the 150th anniversary of Geneseo's first graduation ceremony. With the original Normal School curriculum requiring two to three years of instruction, it's not known with any certainty how the 10 members of Geneseo's Class of 1872 managed to meet the necessary requirements in only one year. It's believed that Principal William J. Milne, desiring a commencement ceremony at the end of the school's first year, enticed some of his former students at the Brockport Normal School to transfer to Geneseo to finish their studies.

During its history, Geneseo occasionally held mid-year ceremonies for students completing their studies after the fall semester. Accordingly, this year's ceremony, while marking the culmination of the college's 150th academic year, is officially the 156th commencement.
