Dear Alumnae and Alumni,

It is with much sadness that we said goodbye to your beloved professor and our dear colleague Gérard Gouvernet, who passed away July 18, 2008. "Dr. G" was a superb professor, a terrific colleague and a most noble and kind human being.

Dr. Gouvernet received a Licence és-Lettres in Spanish and in Portuguese from Université de Montpellier, France. He completed M.A. (1970) and Ph.D. (1978) degrees in French Literature at Harvard University.

"Gouvie," as he was fondly referred to by his students, joined our faculty as Assistant Professor of French in 1982. In 1991 he was Acting Chair of the department, and served as department Chair from 1992 to 2001. In 2002 he was promoted to Full Professor.

Among his numerous contributions to our college were the establishment of the Montpellier, France, study abroad program and advising Phi Sigma Iota, the International Foreign Language Honor Society.

During his tenure at Geneseo Dr. Gouvernet received numerous awards, including the President's Award for Excellence in Academic Advisement (2001). This award was most befitting, for his mentorship of students was legendary. As Joe Gianfagna (FREN 2006) explains, "I was heartbroken at the loss of our dear professor, Dr. Gouvernet. 'Gouvie' was much more than a great teacher to me. He was my mentor and friend and I will miss his presence in my life greatly. May we all reflect fondly on the lessons learned, good times and memories of Dr. G."

The department and current and former students will organize a memorial later in the fall. Once scheduled, information will be posted on the department's Webpage. If you wish to receive an emailed announcement of this memorial, please email forlang@geneseo.edu, subject line: Memorial for Dr. Gouvernet.

Notes of sympathy to the Gouvernet family may be addressed via electronic Guest Book at:

<http://www.legacy.com/DemocratAndChronicle/GB/GuestbookEntry.aspx?&PersonID=113694228>.

A study abroad scholarship is being established in Dr. Gouvernet's memory (please see "Study Abroad News," inside).

SPOTLIGHT: ARIANE BAER

Ariane Baer was raised in a bilingual and bicultural home (French and Swiss) and has had a wide variety of educational and vocational experiences. She has a B.A. in Modern Languages from Hobart and William Smith College, and an M.S. in Education from SUNY Geneseo (2008), under the advisement of Dr. Evans. Ms. Baer was awarded the College's first Graduate Student Travel Grant to present at a conference on teaching methodology. This fall, she will start her Ph.D. in Education (with a concentration on teaching Foreign Languages) at SUNY Buffalo.

In the past, Ms. Baer has spent time in Senegal and has taught English and Philosophy, in addition to serving as an interim director at a bilingual school in Dakar. More recently, she has taught French and Spanish at the primary level at the Harley School in Rochester.

The department is pleased to welcome Ms. Baer as a new member of its faculty. She will be a visiting lecturer of French during the 2008-09 academic year.

The inductees were: Meredith Cannella, Jonathan Choi, Adam Davis, Alix Dusel, Robin Foley, Sarah Hart, Heather Horton, Katie Kelley, Kerry Kuhn, Teresa Litchison, Maggie Morris, Andrea Paulman, Jaclyn Pérez, Laurie Sadofsky, Kimberly Sarris, Amy Seweryniak, Kara Siciliano, Kim Skeggs, Aaron Stephan, Kaitlin Thomassen, and Ashley Westerbeck. Dr. Bernard is the faculty advisor.

On April 16, 2008, the Alpha Phi chapter of Phi Sigma Iota, the International Foreign Language Honor Society, had its yearly induction ceremony in the Burgundy Room at The Big Tree Inn. The ceremony was presided by inductee chapter president Kimberly Rugg (Spanish), chapter vice president Adam Kroopnick (French/Spanish), and chapter faculty advisor Dr. Rose McEwen. Inductees at the ceremony were: Adam Batt, Neil Campbell, Tanya Farnung, Robin Foley, Jenna Geiser, Adam Kroopnick, Amy Lafleur, Andrea Paulman, Amy Seweryniak, Kara Siciliano, Kimberly Skeggs and Barbara Vigna. Inducted in absentia were Bobette Buchanan, Danae Cummins-Carden, Dominique DuPont, Krista Gamble, Philip Mogavero, Kathryn Murphy and Caitlin Scurachio. Honorary membership, recognized for their outstanding, long-standing service to department students, was conferred to William Gohman and David Tamarin, Associate Professors with the History Department.

DEPARTMENT EVENTS

Annual Picnic

Field Trip to Syracuse

On November 15, Spanish program students enrolled in a Latin American Theater course and Syracuse area department alumni attended a theatrical representation of Boxcar, a drama based on the true story of five undocumented men crossing the border into the United States whose lives intersect with a Hispanic immigration officer. The award-winning play was one of the texts read for that course. The play was a production of New York City's Repertorio Español staged in Spanish at Le Moyne College, Syracuse.

Fulbright Visit, Literature Lecture

Margarita Madanova (Fulbright Scholar, Foreign Languages and Research Coordinator at Kazakh Institute of Management, Economics and Strategic Research), was invited to Geneseo in April by Dr. Klima. Author of many publications in comparative literature, Eurasian studies and applied linguistics, Professor Madanova has extensive experience with the study, translation and promotion of French-written materials concerning Kazakh literature and culture. While on campus Dr. Madanova participated in undergraduate courses, gave a presentation on "Kazakh Identity through Travel Journals," and presented the film "Leila's Prayer," the story of a girl from a village near the Semipalatinsk nuclear test site.

Round Table: Careers in Foreign Languages

On November 26, with the collaboration of department faculty, the Spanish Club "La Casa Hispánica" hosted a round-table discussion about career opportunities for foreign language majors and for those with foreign language skills. The panel was comprised of Jeanne Imitola, Business Services Representative for the New York State Department of Labor in Orleans and Genesee Counties and a SUNY Geneseo alumna; Michael Glover, District

Superintendent of Genesee Valley's BOCES and also a Geneseo alumnus; and Jerald Wrubel, Director of the college's Career Services Offices. The Harding Lounge in Welles Hall was filled to capacity.

Plays in Spanish Attended by About 400

December 5, department faculty and students enrolled in Dr. McEwen's Latin American theater course staged three one-act plays at Wadsworth Auditorium. Over 250 Spanish language students and teachers from secondary schools in the Attica, E. Irondequoit, J.C. Wilson Magnet, Kendall and Livonia districts attended the early morning performance; the evening presentation welcomed over 100 Naples High School and SUNY Geneseo students and faculty, as well as Latino and Spanish speaking members of the community. A packet of lesson plans and materials was supplied in advance to school teachers to help students understand the plays' cultural framework and Spanish vocabulary. The production received numerous accolades, including that of Jeannette Molina, SUNY Geneseo's Director of the ESL Programs, who commented: "All of you were absolutely great!! I would go to another of these [performances] in a heartbeat."

Foreign Language Residences' Open House

Residents of La Maison Française and La Residencia Hispana, our department's foreign language residences, under the commendable leadership of Emily Borhard (FREN), held an Open House April 12 with the collaboration of Residence Life and student clubs La Casa Hispánica and Le Cercle Français.

The 3C quad area of Ontario Hall was enveloped by the aroma of delectable dishes from French and Hispanic regions prepared by residents and friends. The event's highlight was the masterful performance by Dr. David Tamarin, an accomplished flamenco guitarist, and Aurora Gutiérrez Luna, visiting Teaching Assistant from Spain and a resident of La Casa Hispánica who danced several flamenco pieces. Information about the residences is found at:

<http://www.geneseo.edu/CMS/display.php?page=7312&dpt=forlang>

Student, Professor Present at Conference in Cuzco, Peru

This March, Dr. McEwen and Katherine Freeman, and Dr. Kintz and two Anthropology students, traveled to Cuzco to present at the VII Congreso Internacional de Literatura Hispánica. Katie, the recipient of an Undergraduate Research Grant, discussed the legends and stories of the hero twins of the Popol Vuh, the sacred book of the Maya. While there, Drs. McEwen and Kintz met with leaders of academic institutions to discuss the establishment of a SUNY Geneseo program in that region (see "Study Abroad News").

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

La Casa Hispánica

Board members Jaclyn Pérez, Kara Siciliano, Meredith Canella and Heather Kelly teamed up to organize one of the most active years in the club's history. In addition to organizing the discussion about career opportunities for foreign language majors (see page 3), and helping host the foreign language residences Open House, the club held numerous educational chats, screened several movies and spent time together either at area Hispanic restaurants or at the home of Dr. Gómez, club advisor. The club also collected over 300 cans of food and raised substantial funds that were donated to the Mt. Morris Migrant Center and to area migrant families. Innovative this year was the club's decision to hold meetings in Spanish. Kara Siciliano will be club president the coming year.

Le Cercle Français

Under the creative leadership of Sarah Dziekonski, Le Cercle Français had a remarkably active year. In the fall, members participated in the Student Expo and in the Parent's Weekend Expo. November 5-11th was National French Week (La Semaine Nationale du Français) and the club took a trip to Simply Crepes. Le Cercle also hosted Muriel Najean de Bevere, who spoke in French about French folklore and fairy tales. The club also organized what was described by students as an amazing talk by Ariane Baer on her experiences in Senegal. In the spring, Le Cercle screened several movies and conversation nights (Les Bavards); the latter were much aided by Karima Az zékraoui who regularly assisted helping students improve their French pronunciation. At the end of the academic year, the Club had t-shirts made, and collaborated with the Spanish Club on a potluck dinner in the Foreign Language Residences. Sara was reelected president for the coming year.

The Chinese Culture Club

The Chinese Culture Club hosted its yearly "China Night" celebration November 3 in the MacVittie College Union ballroom. The event featured a Mulan theme to help exemplify the meaning of being a Chinese woman. Highlights included authentic and modern Chinese food, music and dance performances, and a short Chinese skit. Pictured below are Jasmine Tang, the department's Chinese Instructor, and Dr. Chi-Ming Tang, who were honored for their contributions to the club.

Der Deutsche Verein

During the year, the Der Deutsche Verein (German Club), under club president David Bliss, was very active and saw an increase in membership. In September, the Verein hosted an Oktoberfest celebration at Onondaga Hall. Advisor Dr. Cynthia Klima gave a short presentation on the history and meaning of Oktoberfest to over 50 participants, while club members provided traditional German food for the celebration. During the year, the Verein hosted screenings of German films on campus, took a trip to Rohrbachs Brewery and a German Restaurant in Rochester to sample traditional German fare. The Verein was also recognized by National Residence Hall Honorary for contributing to campus life. The club has decided to implement a program that will recognize annually a graduating senior who has contributed to the German Program at Geneseo. The club president for the 2008-09 academic year will be Andrew Weber.

STUDY ABROAD NEWS

Cadiz, Spain

Valerie Abrigo, Alicia Hardenberg, Melissa Gradel, Meredith Canella, and Yolanda González studied at Universidad de Cádiz (UCA), Spain, through our exchange program with that university. During the academic year, six students and two Teaching Assistants from UCA studied at Geneseo. Program coordinator is Felisa Brea.

Gérard Gouvernet Scholarship for Study Abroad

The family of Dr. Gérard Gouvernet suggested that donations in his memory be directed to the college's Geneseo Foundation to benefit the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, or to the Pluta Cancer Center. The family has enthusiastically received our suggestion that donations to the Geneseo Foundation fund be used to create a scholarship to help financially strapped department students study abroad.

Donations to the Gérard Gouvernet Study Abroad Scholarship should be mailed to the Geneseo Foundation, SUNY Geneseo, Erwin 202, Geneseo, NY 14454 (please indicate your donation is to benefit the Department of Foreign Languages' Gérard Gouvernet Scholarship).

VISITING FACULTY

Isabel Domínguez (pictured on Page 2) first came to Geneseo in 2001 as a Spanish Teaching Assistant. She returned to the college as a lecturer, her current position, after completing an MA. at the University of Syracuse in 2005. She teaches a wide variety of courses from basic language or conversation to Commercial Spanish. Some of Ms. Domínguez's interests include Linguistics, Pedagogy and North American History. When asked what she likes most about Geneseo, Ms. Domínguez said "Its academic excellence and the beautiful campus." Ms. Domínguez will continue teaching Spanish part-time during the 2008-09 academic year, while pursuing a Secondary Education certificate, also at SUNY Geneseo.

The department was pleased that Karima Az zékraoui (pictured on Page 4), of the Université of Montpellier, France, accepted our invitation to extend her Teaching Assistantship for another academic year. A participant in the exchange program between that university and SUNY Geneseo, Ms. Az zékraoui taught beginning, intermediate, conversational and advanced French courses while conducting research and preparing the thesis for her M.A. degree, which she completed in the spring.

Aurora Gutiérrez Luna (pictured on Page 4), of the Universidad de Cádiz, Spain, was a Spanish Teaching Assistant during the past academic year. A participant in the exchange program between that university and Geneseo, Ms. Gutiérrez Luna taught beginning, intermediate and Spanish conversation courses, and was an enthusiastic director of the department's Friday tertulias. Ms. Gutiérrez Luna, who has an M.S. degree in Teaching English as a Second Language from Universidad Pablo de Olavide (Seville), designed an 18-month curriculum for teaching beginning and intermediate English courses to Nicaraguan students enrolled in SUNY Geneseo's service learning program in El Sauce, Nicaragua.

FACULTY NEWS

Dr. Lori Bernard, who joined the department in the fall, served as the advisor for Sigma Delta Pi and as chair of the Academic Affairs Committee. She presented papers on Medieval and Early Modern literature in Córdoba, Spain, and in Kalamazoo, one of which was published in Canones críticos en la poesía de los Siglos de Oro (2008). In addition, she participated in campus activities such as the Deliberative Dialogue, Tertulias, and Great Day, where her student, Andrea Paulman, presented a paper on Lazarillo de Tormes. She is currently working on a critical edition of the Capcionero toledano, a collection of Spanish poetry of the 16th Century.

Felisa Brea continued to serve on the Academic Affairs Committee and as academic advisor. She was a cast member of Suelto según capacidades and participated in many college events such as the Deliberative Dialogue and the Latino Student Association dinner. She also remained active in the community working as a volunteer, translator, and liaison for numerous local organizations, such as 4-H, BOCES Migrant Center, and various educational and governmental agencies.

Rocío Delgado. The department warmly welcomes our newest tenure-track colleague, María del Rocío Delgado. She comes to us from the University of Arizona where she studied Linguistics and specialized in Second Language Acquisition. Ms. Delgado will be teaching Spanish language and linguistics courses. Her linguistics expertise and her extensive experience with students of diverse cultural backgrounds in a variety of situations makes her a most valuable addition to our department.

Dr. Beverly Evans was active in the department as both a mentor and a scholar. As a mentor, she encouraged students to participate in scholarly activities and served as faculty advisor for Pi Delta Phi and the French Club, where she was instrumental in bringing two speakers to campus. As a scholar, she published a review and three articles, and gave a presentation. She was elected the Northeast Vice President of Pi Delta Phi and presided at the Xi Zeta Chapter Installation of that organization. She is currently working on an article and a book length manuscript.

Dr. Joaquín Gómez served the department in a variety of roles, including library representative, member of the Personnel Committee and advisor of the Spanish Club. In addition, he served as the chair of the Search Committee that recently hired Rocío Delgado, the newest member of the Spanish section. He is currently researching the narrative works of José Luis Sampedro.

Dr. Cynthia Klima was active in numerous activities. She was the departmental representative to the UUP and Executive Secretary of the SUNY Geneseo chapter; coordinator for the Central/Eastern European Studies and the German minors; and a member of the following college and national committees: Grounds and Building, Humanities Core, WSSA (Vice President), AATSEEL, and the NEA. She also was instrumental in bringing a Fulbright speaker to campus. Dr. Klima published a book and a review, and presented at a conference. She also worked on curriculum development and study abroad. She is working on a book chapter ("Victims and Perpetrators: Questions of Identity in Norbert Gstrein's Das Register"), a journal article and poetry translations.

Dr. Rose McEwen completed her first year as chair of the department. She presented "El arte de contar: La tradición oral desde el Popol Vuh hasta el presente maya" in Cuzco, Peru. Dr. McEwen continued serving as coordinator of the Latin American Studies program; as director or co-director of study abroad programs in Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Spain; and as co-director of the Alan Lutkus International Film Series. She also was instrumental in developing the new Peru study abroad program, which she will coordinate. Dr. McEwen actively served the community and the college as well, being appointed to several campus committees and acting as Faculty Marshal during Spring Commencement. She was nominated for several awards and received the Harter Mentoring Award.

Dr. Cristina Rowley was departmental representative in the Faculty Senate, and served as the department's assessment coordinator and the coordinator of Spanish language programs at the beginning and intermediate levels. She presented two papers, submitted for publication an article on "The Indigenous Image in the Works of Enrique López Albújar," and is currently working on an article about Gloria Anzaldúa. She was also active on various committees and participated in community service.

Jasmine Tang continued to be active with the Chinese program. She served as an advisor and mentor for the department's Chinese language students and as a consultant for the Livingston/Wyoming County School Districts. She completed Books II and III (2nd edition) of Dynamic Chinese, presented a paper at ACTFL in San Antonio, and was a nominated candidate to the presidency of the International Conference on East Asian Calligraphy.

Dr. E. Richie VanVliet continued to serve the department and the higher education community in a number of roles. Dr. VanVliet served as a program reviewer and as a member of the Lead Program for ACTFL/NCATE; as an Honorary Admissions Officer for Brown University; and as a member of the departmental recruitment committee. He was reappointed to the Zerilli-Marimò City of Rome Prize for Italian Literature Committee. In addition to completing his book manuscript Typology of French: An Agglutinative Language, Dr. VanVliet appeared in Who's Who among America's Teachers.
