Other National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Programs (See Below)
	Common Heritage	The program supports events organized by community cultural institutions, which members of the public will be invited to attend. At these events experienced staff will digitize the community historical materials brought in by the public. With the owner's permission, digital copies of these materials would be included in the institutions' collections. Historical photographs, artifacts, documents, family letters, art works, and audiovisual recordings are among the many items eligible for digitization and public commemoration.	May 31, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/common-heritage
	Creating Humanities Communities	The program provides matching grants to help stimulate and proliferate meaningful humanities activities in states and U.S. territories underserved by NEH's grantmaking divisions and offices. Grantees will use the funds to establish and undertake new humanities programs. Applicants to this program must form collaborative partnerships with at least two and at most five institutions (including the applicant organization). These partnerships may involve organizations such as public libraries, cultural centers, museums, historical societies, colleges (including community colleges) and universities, archival repositories, historic houses, school districts, civic centers, or other cultural entities	Feb. 14, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/challenge/creating-humanities-communities

Dialogues on the Experience of War	The program supports the study and discussion of important humanities sources about war, in the belief that these sources can help U.S. military veterans and others to think more deeply about the issues raised by war and military service. The humanities sources can be drawn from history, philosophy, literature, and film—and they may and should be supplemented by testimonials from those who have served.	Nov. 2, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/education/dialogues-the-experience-war
Digging Into Data Challenge	The T-AP Digging into Data Challenge is open to any project that addresses research questions in the humanities and/or social sciences by using techniques of large-scale digital data analysis and shows how these new techniques can lead to new theoretical insights. It is specifically aiming to advance multidisciplinary collaborative projects in digital scholarship that seek new perspectives and insights. Proposals may address any research question in the humanities and/or social sciences, utilizing any data source to do so.	June 29	https://www.neh.gov/grants/odh/digging-data-challenge
Digital Projects for the Public	The program offers three levels of support for digital projects: grants for Discovery projects (early-stage planning work), Prototyping projects (proof-of-concept development work), and Production projects (end-stage production and distribution work).	June 6, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/public/digital-projects-the-public
Documenting Endangered Languages	The Documenting Endangered Languages (DEL) program is a partnership between the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and the National Science Foundation (NSF) to develop and advance knowledge concerning endangered human languages. Awards support fieldwork and other activities relevant to recording, documenting, and archiving endangered languages, including the preparation of lexicons, grammars, text samples, and databases. DEL funding is available in the form of one- to three-year project grants as well as fellowships for six to twelve months.	Sept. 15, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/documenting-endangered-languages
Fellowships	Fellowships support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both. Recipients usually produce articles, monographs, books, digital materials, archaeological site reports, translations, editions, or other scholarly resources in the humanities.	April 11, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/fellowships
Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan	The Fellowships for Advanced Social Science Research on Japan program is a joint activity of the Japan-U.S. Friendship Commission (JUSFC) and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Awards support research on modern Japanese society and political economy, Japan's international relations, and U.S.-Japan relations.	April 25, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/fellowships-advanced-social-science-research-japan
Humanities Access Grants	Humanities Access grants help support capacity building for humanities programs that benefit one or more of the following groups: children, family, and young adults (defined to include those between ages 18 and 30).	May 2, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/challenge/humanities-access-grants
Humanities Collections and Reference Resources	HCRR supports projects that provide an essential underpinning for scholarship, education, and public programming in the humanities. Thousands of libraries, archives, museums, and historical organizations across the country maintain important collections of books and manuscripts, photographs, sound recordings and moving images, archaeological and ethnographic artifacts, art and material culture, and digital objects. Funding from this program strengthens efforts to extend the life of such materials and make their intellectual content widely accessible, often through the use of digital technology. Awards are also made to create various reference resources that facilitate use of cultural materials, from works that provide basic information quickly to tools that synthesize and codify knowledge of a subject for in-depth investigation.	July 19, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/humanities-collections-and-reference-resources
Humanities Connections	Grants support the development and implementation of an integrated set of courses (minimum three) and student engagement activities focusing on significant humanities content. A common topic, theme, or compelling issue or question must link the courses and activities. The Humanities Connections program gives special encouragement to projects that foster collaboration between humanities faculty and their counterparts in the social and natural sciences and pre-service or professional programs in business, engineering, health sciences, law, computer science, and other non-humanities fields.	Oct. 17, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/education/humanities-connections
Humanities Open Book Program	The Humanities Open Book Program is designed to make outstanding out-of-print humanities books available to a wide audience. By taking advantage of low-cost "ebook" technology, the program will allow teachers, students, scholars, and the public to read humanities books that have long been out of print.	Sept. 13, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/odh/humanities-open-book-program
Institutes for Advanced Topics in the Digital Humanities	The Institutes for Advanced Topics in the Digital Humanities program supports national or regional (multistate) training programs for scholars, humanities professionals, and advanced graduate students to broaden and extend their knowledge of digital humanities.	March 13, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/odh/institutes-advanced-topics-in-the-digital-humanities

Media Projects: Development Grants	The Media Projects program supports film, television, and radio projects that engage general audiences with humanities ideas in creative and appealing ways. All projects must be grounded in humanities scholarship in disciplines such as history, art history, film studies, literature, drama, religious studies, philosophy, or anthropology. Development grants enable media producers to collaborate with scholars to develop humanities content and to prepare programs for production. Grants should result in a script (for a film or television project) or a detailed treatment (for a radio or podcast project) and may also yield a detailed plan for outreach and public engagement in collaboration with a partner organization or organizations.	Aug. 9, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/public/media-projects-development-grants
Media Projects: Production Grants	The Media Projects program supports film, television, and radio projects that engage general audiences with humanities ideas in creative and appealing ways. All projects must be grounded in humanities scholarship in disciplines such as history, art history, film studies, literature, drama, religious studies, philosophy, or anthropology. Production grants support the production and distribution of films, television programs, and radio programs or podcasts that promise to engage a broad public audience.	Aug. 9, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/public/media-projects-production-grants
National Digital Newspaper Program	The program's goal is to create a national digital resource of historically significant newspapers published between 1690 and 1963, from all the states and U.S. territories.	Jan. 11, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/national-digital-newspaper-program
NEH-Mellon Fellowships for Digital Publication	The Fellowships support individual scholars pursuing interpretive research projects that require digital expression and digital publication. To be eligible for this special opportunity, an applicant's plans for digital publication must be essential to the project's research goals. Successful projects will likely incorporate visual, audio, and/or other multimedia materials or flexible reading pathways that could not be included in traditionally published books, as well as an active distribution plan.	April 11, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/neh-mellon-fellowships-digital-publication
Public Humanities Projects	Public Humanities Projects grants support projects that bring the ideas and insights of the humanities to life for general audiences. Projects must engage humanities scholarship to analyze significant themes in disciplines such as history, literature, ethics, and art history, or to address challenging issues in contemporary life. NEH encourages projects that involve members of the public in collaboration with humanities scholars or that invite contributions from the community in the development and delivery of humanities programming.	Aug. 9, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/public/public-humanities-projects
Public Scholar Program	The Public Scholar Program aims to encourage scholarship that will be of broad interest and have lasting impact. Such scholarship might present a narrative history, tell the stories of important individuals, analyze significant texts, provide a synthesis of ideas, revive interest in a neglected subject, or examine the latest thinking on a topic. Books supported by this program must be grounded in humanities research and scholarship. Applications to write books directed primarily to scholars are not appropriate for this program.	Feb. 7, 2018	https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/public-scholar-program
Research and Development	The Research and Development program supports projects that address major challenges in preserving or providing access to humanities collections and resources. These challenges include the need to find better ways to preserve materials of critical importance to the nation's cultural heritage—from fragile artifacts and manuscripts to analog recordings and digital assets subject to technological obsolescence—and to develop advanced modes of organizing, searching, discovering, and using such materials.	June 8, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/preservation/research-and-development
Scholarly Editions and Translations Grants	Scholarly Editions and Translations grants support the preparation of editions and translations of pre-existing texts of value to the humanities that are currently inaccessible or available in inadequate editions. Typically, the texts and documents are significant literary, philosophical, and historical materials; but other types of work, such as musical notation, are also eligible. Projects must be undertaken by at least one editor or translator and one other collaborating scholar. These grants support full-time or part-time activities for periods of one to three years.	Dec. 6, 2017	https://www.neh.gov/grants/research/scholarly-editions-and-translations-grants
Summer Seminars and Institutes	NEH Summer Seminars and Institutes grants support professional development programs in the humanities for school teachers and for college and university faculty. Seminars and institutes may be as short as one week or as long as four weeks.	March 1, 2018	Division of Education Programs
Sustaining Cultural Heritage Collections	As museums, libraries, archives, and other collecting institutions strive to be effective stewards of humanities collections, they must find ways to implement preventive conservation measures that are sustainable. This program therefore helps cultural repositories plan and implement preservation strategies that pragmatically balance effectiveness, cost, and environmental impact.	Dec. 5, 2017	Division of Preservation and Access
