Virtual Internships and Study Abroad Programs

The following virtual internships are all 3 credit hours and can be completed as part of your other regular Spring 2021 course work. They can be applied to the IR tracks as described below. They can also be used to satisfy the study abroad/internship requirement for all students, regardless of graduation date. Contact the Study Abroad Office for more information and application deadlines.

- Kaya Responsible Travel, Remote Internship Abroad: 3 Credits: This internship will count towards the Global Political Economy or Developing World tracks.

- FSD Jinja Uganda: 3 credits: This internship will count towards the Global Political Economy or Developing World tracks.

- Foundation for International Education – 3 Credits: This internship will count towards the Global Political Economy track.

The following Virtual Study Abroad programs have options to take 3 or more credits. You can register for select courses in addition to your regular coursework. They can be applied to the IR tracks as follows. Contact the Study Abroad Office for more information and application deadlines.

- Webster University Athens, Spring Term 2, Virtual Modern Greek Society and Culture – 3 Credits: This course can be applied to the European Systems Track

- AMIDEAST – 3-11 credits. Students can register for up to nine credits, although only 6 credits can be applied to the track. Additional credits can be applied as general electives. The courses can be applied as follows:
  - The following courses will count towards the Developing World track:
    - Political Systems of the Maghreb
    - Gender, Islam, and Society
    - Moroccan Cinema and Politics
  - The following course will count towards the War and Peace track:
    - Gender, Islam, and Society

The following Virtual Study Abroad program is full time and you should not register for regular Geneseo courses. They can be applied to the IR tracks as follows. Contact the Study Abroad Office for more information and application deadlines.

- Siena Italian Studies Multi-Destination program – 17 credits. Two of these courses totaling 6 credit hours can be applied to the European Systems Track: Intercultural Communication and European Development Policy. The other courses will count as general electives.