

Shannon Dempsey
Law Student
St. John's University School of Law

"My Philosophy studies, specifically Intro to Logic, contributed to my success on the LSAT and the merit based scholarship I received. I took Intro to Philosophy on a whim and it made me realize how much I enjoy forming arguments and public speaking. That course made me completely switch my focus from Business to Philosophy. I believe that my experience in Intro to Philosophy has been a major factor to my success in trial advocacy. "
