Dear campus community,

On October 5, around 7 a.m., an attentive member of the college's facilities department located a fanny pack sitting on a bench in the parking loop outside Livingston Hall. Inside the bag was a loaded handgun. According to New York State law, only members of law enforcement may possess firearms on College property.

The University Police are actively investigating the incident and ask anyone who may have information to contact us at 585-245-5651 or police@geneseo.edu. There is no indication that there is a threat to the community.

The University Police remind community members to remain vigilant and report suspicious activity; if you see something, say something.
